UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO ONLINE CONSENT FOR RESEARCH PARTICIPATION

I am an assistant professor at Utrecht University, working in collaboration with Professor Risen at the University of Chicago. We are planning to conduct a research study, which I invite you to take part in. This form has important information about the reason for doing this study, what we will ask you to do if you decide to be in this study, and the way we would like to use information about you if you choose to be in the study.

Why are you doing this study?

You are being asked to participate in a research study about mental simulation and other people's feelings.

What will I do if I choose to be in this study?

You will be asked to simulate an experience and to answer a few questions about another person.

Study time:

Study participation will take no more than 5 minutes.

What are the possible risks or discomforts?

The risks to your participation in this study are mild physical or mental stress. The only benefit to you is the learning experience from participating in a research study. The benefit to society is the contribution to scientific knowledge.

What are the possible benefits for me or others?

You are not likely to have any direct benefit from being in this research study. The study results may be used to help other people in the future.

How will you protect the information you collect about me, and how will that information be shared?

Results of this study may be used in publications and presentations. Your study data will be handled as confidentially as possible. If results of this study are published or presented, no individual names or other personally identifiable information will be used.

Financial Information

Participation in this study will involve no cost to you. You will be paid $0.50 for participating in this study.

What are my rights as a research participant?

Participation in this study is voluntary. If at any time and for any reason, you would prefer not to participate in this study, please feel free not to.

Who can I contact if I have questions or concerns about this research study?

If you have questions, you may contact the researcher Janina Steinmetz at janina.steinmetz@chicagobooth.edu.

If you have any questions about your rights as a participant in this research, you can contact the following office at the University of Chicago: Social & Behavioral Sciences; Institutional Review Board; University of Chicago; 5835 South Kimbark - Judd 333; Chicago, IL 60637; Phone: (773) 834-7835; Fax: (773) 834-8700; Email: sbs-irb@uchicago.edu

Consent Section

By accepting this HIT you are consenting to participation in this study.

name person

This study consists of several tasks. First, on the next page, you will engage in a mental simulation.

Later — as part of the second task — you will be answering a few questions about someone else. We would like you to now give us the name of someone who you know personally (but who is not with you in the same room or house right now). You will answer some questions about them in the second part of this survey.

Please tell us now the name (first name is enough) of a person who you know personally and who is very similar to you:

Please tell us now the name (first name is enough) of a person who you know personally and who is very different from you:

hungry

On the next page, you will be asked to imagine that you are experiencing a physical state (e.g., being thirsty, tired, etc.).

You will have at least 60 seconds to fully imagine experiencing that physical state, and to describe your experience. After 60 seconds, you can continue writing, or you can advance to the next study.

These page timer metrics will not be displayed to the recipient.

First Click: 0 seconds

Last Click: 0 seconds

Click Count: 0 clicks

For the next 60 seconds, please imagine that you are very HUNGRY.

Please write about what it would be like to be very hungry in as much detail as possible.

Think about what your experience would be like: What would you be thinking about? How would your body feel? How would you act? Please try to give us a detailed description of the thoughts and feelings you would have.
